

Mended

After the quake we spent too long sifting the earth for pieces that meant something, some meaning

First fall snow hid the scars
'til my boots carved the land and made you weep, don't weep

Unmoor your hopes of perfection
these lines are signs of life
while we may not stay the same
hold on, hold on,
nothing more beautiful
than a mended soul

Blame is burden Lay it down this cracked sail still waves in tomorrow and more

these lines are signs of life
hold on, hold on,
nothing more beautiful
than a mended soul

See this fine seam of gold a gift to make us whole so we hold the past lightly

Hold on, hold on, hold on
nothing more beautiful
than a mended thing

Last Train Home

I've passed this way before So familiar, yet not so Now it seems all I know disappears like melted snow

Last train home
I hear you call
Come to me

We come full circle
Left behind, that heavy climb Now we see the first time fewer things are certain

Last train home
Come to me
Last train home
I will sleep Where you be

Now

Give me back that day on the sound chasing waves over endless sand first time, you took my hand, that would be the one

My Last hour, heavy months her heart, deep in me drum first cry like your own, that would be the one

Don't crave the accolades,
they soon evaporate
Now is all that signifies,
the light of you in someone's eyes
all your moments crystallised... now

Mirror seas, to infinity glaciers glittering, how blue can this blue be, that would be the one

Don't crave the accolades,
Now is all that signifies,

Don't crave the accolades,
Now signifies
the light of you in someone's eyes

It's this beat, this note, this pause, this breathe It's you, it's you, it's you, It's you... It's all

It's this touch, this flaw, this smile, this call It's you, it's you, it's you.... it's all

Eruption

Did you think a beard would hide your shame it leaks like dignity in rain no matter what you say to justify the dirt you leave behind just won't lie

Oh spare me your outrage
I'm just as guilty of silence

The angels are spinning wringing their wings
who have we given a throne
the world is weeping
what have we done
to fight this eruption year

Still insist that you know best Your arrogance steals my breath

Such crimes surging the earth what will you tell your children

The angels are spinning

Times up old men, here's revolution you've been more hindrance than help Times up old men, new solution starts with a woman's touch

The Angel's are listening fanning their wings who will we give the throne the world is waiting...

Whole

Your shouting cannot deafen me, however close you stand I can see above your head, feel the coming wind

Whatever you steal, my heart will beat still

Undefended, I have learnt to bend
there is no weapon you can send
I will stay unbroken, unbroken again
there'll come a day, your strength will end

Your forces cannot silence, however hard you push Even if you build new walls, it still belongs to us

So burn up our books, we know all the words

Undefended, I have learnt to bend
There is no weapon you can send

Stifle all these fears, so she will stay bold Stifle all these years, so she stays whole

Undefended, I have learnt to bend

Take all she brings

Take all she brings
all of her deep things keep you alive leave you tongue tied

She doesn't have time to watch the time go by She already knows that she doesn't have long to try
If you could see through her eyes,
wish you could see through her eyes

Through her eyes,
there's no need for certainty
through her eyes,
your doubts don't mean anything
embrace them, outrace them
and still believe that you have wings

Take all she brings misunderstandings unravel your faith leave you shaking

You spend a lifetime discovering nothing you know what your fears are but not how to still them
If you could see through her eyes,

Through her eyes,
through her eyes,

Does she overwhelm you does she look right through you don't they say that we are what love makes us

Through her eyes,
through her eyes,
take all she brings
take all she brings

'cause she believes that you have wings

Huma

Don't trap me under glass I've been tethered long enough rooted in your weighty plans no more,
I come to glove

This house always floodlit assuage your fear of shadows and everything unseen that flits
My dreams, did you never wonder

Where I steal out, into the hungry night seduced by petrichor In thrall to a lucent moon unmoored
I launch into the starts
A Huma
beyond capture

Still Life

Another moment
Caught in your lens
You look so hard see less and less

Freezing the days
Kept them contained
But time's rebelling Won't be restrained

So leave the back door open tonight
I may need to leave in haste
Steal away from all you saved
Is there still life for me to taste

Here are your glories
Over the years
In all the poses Eager to please

So many trophies
You're not to blame
You craved attention
They did the same

So leave the back door open tonight

No wilting flower you can trap but blood, skin and water, made to lapse let it go, let me go, let us go...

And the wind howled through the night how I needed to escape found myself in a strange new place still there must be more, must be more, more life for me to taste

Shouting out, first time in ages free to fall, now there's no cages on my own, aah it's amazing I'm shaking, horizons unclear

Wayman

So, you don't look a day on my travelling man
still got a wandering eye

hitch up your kegs push out your chest spin me round the old bandstand

my raggedy man
still got a rascal sigh

make my knees bow lift to pogo fly me like we'd never land

Why come back here Wayman
did the world let you down again can't console you, it costs too much
and I'm not free
best you keep roaming and leave me be?

Now I look much closer my rambling man albatross wings are thinning my floating man

your baroque song is sounding hollow sideways on you disappear

Why come back here Wayman
See, I need to be rooted where I can find truth dear here it is in our girl's eyes she's my prize

So long there Wayman wishing you well hope you find what you're seeking hope it's worth the long trail

Armour of love

I wait for the day to begin a chance to belong to be someone strong and I wait for my name to be called

I could be anywhere
Can you hear me?
Under this dark sky
Can you see me?

Lord as I ride the swell
I know that I am held
and I know that you cover me
With an Armour of Love,

I wait set me free from fear don't let me waste all my tears send friends to be with me and we'll wait 'til the storm is passed

I could be anywhere
Can you hear me?
Can you see me?

And I know that you cover me
With an Armour of love,
Oh Lord as I ride the swell,
I know that I am held
And I feel you surround me

Amour, Amore, Amour, Amore,
Armour of Love, Armour of Love
Your voice on the wind, oh it's telling me I am never alone, oh I am never alone

Lord as I ride the swell
Oh, Lord as I ride the swell,
as I ride the swell I know that I am held, held
and I feel you surround me

Listen

What a mess we wade through,
Counting every step
How many breaths, to feel at rest Too busy, building nests How d'you learn to take a risk

Let the blue hour hold you,
dazzle and blind you

Listen, deeper, longer,
cherish every day on this road Climbing steeper longer Knowing that their love
Keeps you whole

Here's a version of who you thought you'd be laugh at the thought you knew your destiny

Listen, deeper, longer,
Tell them, your way, always Showing that their love

One step, one step, one step more

Listen, deeper, longer, cherish
Listen, deeper, longer, cherish
Every day on this road

Born to be with you

When will I learn to stop returning this crime scene of yearning till calls then will I learn

If I had come just moments before I'd have missed you holding court
when will I learn

One heart was not enough
you need to own the world
so I got to learn to let it go but Love, I was born to be with you Love, I was born to be with you

Thought I was home not just a haven to wait in
'til it stopped raining

There may come a time when those you left behind will stalk your dreams and leave you wondering

One heart, this heart, was not enough
I lift it to the wind now learning to let it go now but darling I was born to be with you Love I was born to be with you

Fugue

How to slip this net this nightly trap what will worry conjure from the drifting black

I have no anchor
Let time do its work
Let gravity release me
Into stars

I'm not the centre of this dream river just a fugitive tilting to the dawn

Ahh, ahhh, ahhh release me
into stars
